ENGINEMEN ASK STRIKE PARLEY

SEEK CONFERENCE WITH S. P. BEFORE TAKING ACTION

NINETY-SIX PER CENT VOTE FAVORS WALK-OUT

Far-Reaching Tieup of Railroad Lines May Be Averted by New Attempt to Settle the Wage Differences.

San Francisco.—That 96 per cent of the Southern Pacific railroad's engineers and firemen voted to strike if their wage demands are not met, is shown by the secret ballot tally. The possibility that the dispute can be settled without a tieup was contained in a statement issued by William Sproule, president of the Southern Pacific system.

A strike would tie up the Southern Pacific lines all the way from Portland, Or., to El Paso, affecting the El Paso and Southwestern and the Arizona Eastern roads, subsindiaries of the Southern Pacific. Between 5,500 and 6,000 engineers and firemen would leave their engines, passenger, frieight and yard.

Announcing the result of the strike vote, L. G. Griffing, grand chief engineer of the Brotherhood of Locomotive Engineers, and D. B. Robertson, president of the Brotherhood of Locomotive Firemen and Enginemen, said that "the men involved have voted in favor of leaving the service, if found necessary to secure a conference with the Southern Pacafic officials, and to obtain a satisfactory settlement of the matters in controversy."

"We have conveyed to President Sproule the action taken by the men, and have renewed out request for a conference, in the hope of affecting a peaceful settlement, and we are awaiting his reply," the brotherhood chiefs added.

Entire willingness to grant this conference was contained in President Sproule's public statement. It follows:

"The representatives of the employes of the Southern Pacific company in engine service have asked for a joint conference, and answer has been given that this is agreeable to the company at an early and convenient date."

With their enginemen's request for a conference thereby granted, a strike will now hinge on whether or not the brotherhood officials and the Southern Pacific can agree on "a satisfactory settlement of the matters in controversy."

These "matters in controversy" are concerned with considerable increase in wages demanded by engineers and firemen, and neither the brotherhood officials or the Southern Pacific company would hazard a guess as to the outcome.

The wage increases demanded are as follows:

Engineers, firemen and helpers in passenger service—18 cents a day.

Engineers, firemen and helpers in freight and in yard service—64 cents a day.

Hostlers and outside hostler helpers—64 cents a day.

6 DIE, 38 INJURED AS CARS COLLIDE

COMMUTERS ON FERRY TRAIN ARE TRAPPED

PROBE TO PLACE BLAME STARTED IMMEDIATELY

Supposedly "Impossible" Accident Takes Heavy Toll of Dead in Rear End Collision—Many of the Injured May Die.

Oakland.—Six persons were killed outright and thirty-eight injured in the worst wreck in the history of the Key Route system, when a crowded Twelfth street Key Route train, halted on the Key Route pier by signal, was struck from the rear and telescoped by a Sacramento Short Line car which, theoretically, couldn't have reached that spot, "automatic" block signals—one to caution the motorman of another car ahead—and two danger signals commanding him to stop. The danger signals also carried apparatus supposed to throw on the car's brakes if it tried to run past.

Investigations were started promptly by official agencies to place the blame for the tragedy.

J. P. Potter, superintendent of the Key Route, declared his company was clear of all responsibility for the disaster. W. R. Alberger, general manager of the Key Route, placed the blame squarely on the short line crew. Superintendent Miller of the Sacramento Short Line stated that he had investigated and found the signal system working perfectly.

Coroner Grant D. Miller of Alameda county announced that a thorough investigation would be pushed by the coroner's jury.

The Key Route train, which had come from the Twelfth street line, was composed of four steel cars. It entered the main line shortly before 8 a. m. and ran out onto the pier. It was stopped by a block signal because of other trains ahead.

The short Line car, of wooden construction, came along only a few seconds later. In the face of a caution signal the can ran on with speed unchecked, according to passengers, and entered the block in which the Key Route train was stopped.

As the wooden car plowed through it tore steel girders to splinters and rose until it ripped off the part of the impaled car's roof. In the rear half of that four men and two women were killed. In that same area thirty two men and women suffered injuries, from which some of them have died. Six persons in the short line car, including Motorman Brubaker, were hurt. Strangely, the wooden car ceemed less damaged than the steel car. It took wrecking crews two hours to rip the cars apart.

The first evidence bearing directly on responsibility for the wreck was given at the inquiry by H. P. Bell, electrical engineer for the Key system, who testified to having found marks on pole 108 tripper arm, indicating it was set at time of accident to spring on automatic brake device.

COAST LEAGUE GAMBLING CHARGE TO BE AIRED IN N. Y.

Chicago.—Rumors that gambling operations influenced the result of certain games in the Pacific Coast Baseball league last season are to be substantiated by evidence at a meeting of the directors of the American league in New York next week, says Ban Johnson, president of the league, who has made a private investigation of the rumors last August, after Eddie Maier, owner of the Vernon club of the coast circuit, was quoted in an interview as saying he had employed detectives to break up crooked operations of gamblers there.

Johnson's investigations were resented as "meddlesome" in a resolution adopted by minor league officials meeting at Hartford, Conn.

"LIARS" BIG SUCCESS

Campbell audiences have had the pleasure of witnessing a number of very good plays, well presented, but the "Prince of Liars" given Friday evening by the Little Theatre Group of Los Gatos was not in the same class. It had had practically all the ear marks of the amateur production eliminated, and was a finished performance in all lines.

The plays given recently by the Boulevard Players of Oakland, compared very favorably but this was a three act play and of an entirely different type from the first two presented by the other group.

The play takes place in London some years ago and the three acts are all staged in the morning-room of the Hummingtop home, which was a very attractive set.

The outline of the play as it appeared on the programs was:

Act I. He begins by lying and, Act II. He has to continue lying—but, Act III He has to finish by telling the truth.

The parts were most admirably sustained and it was a real pleasure to see a good, clean comedy again. As Dr. Chas. Murphy, who is manager and director of the group said, "Clean comedies aren't being written any more, they are all of the bedroom type."

Miss Elizabeth Cameron, one of the faculty of the C. U. G. S. had one of the prominent parts which she portrayed very successfully.

From the many expressions of praise heard from those who attended, it would appear that the company would be well received if they come again.

WOMEN GOVERNORS

The first decade of women suffrage has seen the question of sex enter into almost every campaign where woman aspired to public office. This question will die out and the question of qualification will overshadow every other. Texas and Wyoming have spoken. In Texas an out and out fight took place. The woman triumphed with an issue. Right or wrong, she won. The question of sex apparently was submerged. Once elected, she will have to show her mettle and make good. If she does not make good a blow will be dealt to the much debated question of whether or not woman's place is at the cradle or the mohogany desk, and the desk will lose the battle.

In Wyoming the situation was somewhat different. The great honor came upon Mrs. Ross almost without realization on her part and in the dark hours of grief from the loss of her governor-husband only a few weeks before. The task before her is supported by a conviction that her administration shall be a fitting tribute to the ambition of her lost companion. With this dearest wish in her heart, and with a background of Southern culture, it would seem that even her most bitter opponents would refrain from forecasting any ill results from the action of Wyoming's citizenshsip.

Texas and Wyoming, America is watching you! Womanhood and manhood breathe a prayer for you. If the prayer is answered we may listen for the sound of strange political voices in the great future of this nation.

A BUSY AND A HAPPY MONTH

December is a busy month, and it ought to be a happy month, barring, of course, any individual sorrow that might befall.

The merchant is happy because he is in line for a splendid run of business. The farmer has his crops garnered; the school teachers are in the midst of their good work of making citizens; postal people are busy in taking care of the thousands of packages that will make others happy and bring good cheer to loved ones far away; the housewife is happy and busy shopping or making tidy things for gifts; the ministers and church workers are happy in ministering to the wants of the needy in body and in spirit, and in preparing for edifying Christmas meetings and special services; children are joyous and happy; and so on, down the line.

Other things being equal, if one can not be happy and busy this December there is something radically wrong with the individual, certainly not with December and all that it means and for which it stands.

Reports come filtering to this office through exchanges and otherwise, that even editors and publishers of newspapers are showing signs of exhilaration over the general prosperity that looms; and we are in a position to know that when those who are connected with a newspaper are jubilant, it is quite safe to pronounce editorially (as we here have done) that those engaged in all other classes of endeavor are enjoying the anticipation and abundance of cheer that comes with Yuletide and December.

Christmas Invitation an Insult to Mabelle

"A LOVELY Christmas present—an invitation to the opera—an insult! The beast! Oh, the beast! And to think I had grown so fond of him. How could he be so rude?" Mabelle clenched her fists and paced the floor, a deep red flush suffusing her face. She walked to the mirror over the mantle and looked at herself intently. "A bearded woman!" she said in contempt at herself. "I am bearded, of course—but the nerve of him! I've always intended to have that frightful hair removed from my upper lip. It is hideous, isn't it, mother? But oh, how could he be so unkind?"

"Why, daughter, what are you talking about? I don't understand. It seems to me if I were given an invitation to the opera as Christmas greeting I should be only too delighted. And what has hair on your upper lip to do with opera, anyway?"

"Oh, because, because," she sobbed; "the opera—it's—it's the 'Barber of Seville.'"—Marion R. Reagan.

MRS. HERBERT DUNCAN PASSES AWAY

Word was received this week from Pueblo, Colo., telling of the death of Mrs. Herbert Duncan, who lived with her family in Campbell several years. The following is taken from the Pueblo press.

Mrs. Jessie Duncan, secretary treasurer of Woodcroft Hospital association and one of the most widely known and liked women of the city died suddenly Sunday afternoon.

Mrs. Duncan was born in Michigan August 25, 1872 and for a number of years taught school in that state. Altho she had been frail physically for many years she was always cheerful and she was very helpful to those with whom she was associated.

In her contact with the social and business world she made many loyal friends. She was a member of the First Presbyterian church of Pueblo and the Order of the Eastern Star. She is survived by her husband, Herbert Duncan; two sons, William, a student of Colorado College; Herbert, Jr., of Centennial high school; two sisters, Mrs. Irma Taylor and Mrs. Emer Pixly and a brother, Dr. Charles W. Thompson, superintendent and manager of Woodcroft Hospital.

The body is at Dr. Thompson's apartments, where it will remain until 8 o'clock this evening, when it will be removed to the funeral chapel of T. G. McCarthy and Sons for general funeral services. Rev. Hugh T. Cary will officiate.

The body will be forwarded to the old home in Schoolcroft, Mich., for burial, accompanied by the family.

CANST THOU BEAT IT?

Consider the editor! A child is born unto the wife of a merchant in the town The physician getteth 10 plunks. The editor writeth a stick and a half and telleth the multitude that the child tippeth the beam at nine pounds. Yea, he lieth even as a centurion. And the proud father giveth him a Cremo.

Behold the young one groweth up and graduateth. And the editor putteth into his paper a swell notice. Yea, a peach of a notice. He telleth of the wisdom of the young woman and of her exceeding comeliness. Like unto the roses of Sharon is she and her gown is played up to beat the band. And the dressmaker getteth two score and four iron men. And the editor gets a note of thanks from the sweet girl graduate.

And the daughter goeth on a journey. And the editor throweth himself on the story of the farewell party. It runneth a column solid. And the fair one remembereth him from afar with a picture postal card that costeth six for a jitney.

Behold, she returneth, and the youth of the town fall down and worship. She picketh one and lo, she picketh a lemon. But the editor calleth him one of our promising young men and getteth away with it. And they send unto the editor a bid to the wedding, and behold the bids are fashioned in a far city.

Flowery and long is the wedding notice which the editor printeth. The minister getteth 10 bones. The groom standeth the editor off for a 12-months subscritption.

All flesh is grass and in time the wife is gathered unto the soil. The minister getteth his bit. The editor printeth a death notice, two columns of obituary, three lodge notices, a cubit of poetry and a card of thanks. And he forgetteth to read proof on the head and the darned thing cometh out "Gone to Her Last Roasting Place."

And all that are akin to the deceased jumped on the editor with exceeding great jumps. And they pulleth out their ads and canceleth their subs, and they swing the hammer even unto the third and fourth generations.

NOTICE TO RURAL MAIL PATRONS

Remember Christmas is a holiday for the Rural carrier. All mail that you wish delivered before Christmas must be mailed with that in mind. Also if you want your mail delivered promptly do not place stickers of any description on the face of mail matter, as they must be removed and will have to be set aside in the rush. In placing stickers on the packages do not put them over the strings or otherwise to seal the parcel.

Rememebr that mail matter properly done will be sent but postal employees are forbidden to accept articles for mailing not complying with regulations.

Parcel Post requires the out going address in the lower right hand corner and the return address in the upper left hand corner, stamps in the upper right corner. Wrap and tie securely. Do not use a single strand of twine, it is not strong enough. All first class mail should be stamped before placing in mail box. Buy a good supply of stamps from the carrier now.

Parcels and cards for Campbell and San Jose must bemailed not later than Monday, December 22. Those addressed to points within one day's travel not later than Saturday morning, December 20, within two days' travel not later than December 18.

Rural carrier schedule will be dispensed with on December 22, 23, 24. There will be an auxiliary carrier operating with Carrier Yeager during these dates and all mail will be delivered during daylight hours. Lend an ear for the carrier's whistle. Cooperation makes a Merry Christmas for everybody.
